PERSONAL.

Fred Stanffer, the cattle man, was in town to-day.

N. A. Hummel of Wadsworth was in town this morning.

General R. M. Clarke came in from Winnemucca on last evening's overland.

W. D. Terreyson, wife and daughter of Carson returned this morning from a visit to California.

Miss Eva McAllister of San Francisco, sister of Mrs. Francis G. Newland, is visiting her Reno relatives.

Frank Berry, who left Reno about two years ago for the California redwoods, returned this morning on a short visit.

Misses Clapp and Babcock went to Carson this morning to attend the funeral of the late Governor Stevenson, which will take place to-morrow.

Dr. H. H. Hall, ex-Land Register of the Eureka Land District, and father of Mrs. George W. Baker, arrived this morning on a visit to Reno relatives.

J. H. MacMillan, Democratic nominee for Justice of the Supreme Court, and J. F. Dennis, the Battle Mountain attorney, arrived in town last evening.

Mrs. A. G. Fletcher, who left Reno about the first of August for her old home in Somerset county, Maine, returned home last evening's overland.

Mrs. D. R. Sessions of San Francisco, daughter of C. N. Noteware of Carson, arrived this morning on her way to Carson to visit her stepmother, who was so terribly injured last Sunday evening.

Dr. A. Dawson returned this morning from Churchill county, where he went to attend the four-year-old son of a Mrs. Jackson and grandson of Hav-lon Dillard, who had his skull crushed by a kick from a colt. The little sufferer was brought to Reno for a surgical operation.

The Big Eastern Attraction.
Arizona Joe with his dramatic company and acting horses and dogs will make their appearance at the Opera House to-night. This company is from New York, where they stand as the best of sensational attractions.

They carry special scenery, stage coach and have Jumbo, the champion St.
Bernard dog. The company has done the largest business known of for years in San Francisco, having turned hundreds of people away each night.

Arizona Joe is the champion rifle shot and does some wonderfully clever shooting, cutting a rope and shooting a knife out of a would-be murderer's hands. The stage coach drawn by horses on the stage is a very realistic scene. The San Francisco theatrical company claim that it is the only company that have everything just as advised.

This company has been engaged for four days, commencing to-night with the "Black Hawks," and changing the program each day. The Arizona Joe acting dogs and horses and O'Brien, the great comical artist, will appear at each performance.

WORK OF CONGRESS.

Two More Republican Members Seated.

A DETERMINED SUICIDE.

Two Steamers Cross the At- lantic in the Same Time.

Both Slaven and McAuliffe Are Bound Over.

Congressional Matters.

By Associated Press.] WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Hale introduced a joint resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds, for erecting in the District of Columbia a memorial building which shall be a suitable monument to the memory of U. S.
Grant, and which is to contain a military and naval museum, etc., and in the inner court of which may be placed to rest the mortal remains of the distinguished American. The title endorsed on the resolution reads: "In the vault of which shall be placed the mortal remains of Ulysses S. Grant."

HOUSE.
O'Farrell of Virginia was the only Democrat in the chamber this morning during prayer. The Clerk called the roll on the approval of Friday's journal.
The Speaker hesitated before he announced the result, there being but two lacking a quorum.

A Republican requested to know how he was recorded, and after a sharp interchange between Taylor and O'Farrell as to the legality of the latter's setting as a member of the House, the vote was announced—yeas 161, nays 1; no quorum.

A call of the House was ordered, and while the roll was being called Sweeney of Iowa and McComas of Maryland appeared. During the call a photographer again reproduced the array of empty Democratic seats.

One hundred and sixty-four members responded to the call, when the vote again recurred on approving Friday's journal, which resulted: yeas 160, nays 0, the clerk noting a quorum.

Saturday's and Monday's journals were then read and approved. The question then recurred upon the resolution to unseat Venable; agreed to, yeas 151, nays 1 (Cheadle), the clerk noting a quorum. Then came the question of seating Langston, which was carried on a division, O'Farrell and Cheadle alone voting in the negative. Langston was then brought to the bar of the House and, amid applause, took the oath.

Then came a chorus from the Republican side of "Call up the other case," and despite the efforts of O'Farrell to block the wheels, the previous question was ordered, and despite the protest from Kerr of Iowa that some reason for its adoption should be given, the resolutions for unseating Elliott and seating Miller were agreed to without a division. Then the House went into Committee of the Whole on the Senate amendments to the deficiency bill.

The Republican conferees on the tariff bill were in session again this morning for two hours. After they separated it was said there was no further progress towards a report. The sugar schedule is the chief block in the way of an agreement.

The Republican conferees met again this afternoon, and are now in session.
It is understood the metal and glassware schedules were agreed upon. As to sugar, a compromise on No. 4 as the dividing line between free and duty-bearing sugars is probable; on binding twine, a small duty, probably a half a cent a pound, will be imposed.

It is proposed by some Democratic representatives that the Republicans shall be compelled to pass the tariff bill without the aid of Democratic votes in the House.

Both Bound Over.
By Cable and Associated Press.]
LONDON, Sept. 23.—Slaven and Mc-Auliffe were arraigned in the Lambeth Police Court this morning and bound over to keep the peace in £1,000 each, both furnishing securities to appear when called. If any breach of the peace occurs, warrants will be issued and the case will be sent before a committing magistrate.

A Dead Heat.
By Cable and Associated Press.]
LIVERPOOL, Sept. 23.—The steamer City of New York, which sailed from New York on September 17th, was signalled off Broad Head this morning, and thirty minutes later, the steamer Teutonic, which also left New York on September 17th, passed the same point. The City of New York sailed thirty minutes ahead of the Teutonic.

Public School Notes.
The State Fair Directors have kindly invited the teachers and pupils of the public schools to visit the Fair grounds and Fall on Thursday, Sept. 25th, the principal, Orvis Ring, requiring all who desire to avail themselves of the invitation to meet him at the High School building Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, when they will be furnished tickets of admission.

Buried in a Well.
Yesterday afternoon as the foreman of the Morgan Mill, at Empire, was cleaning out his well, a cave occurred, which has doubtless cost him his life.
It was thought the remains of the unfortunate man would be reached some time to-day. His name is understood as being Detrich.

Questionable Republicans.

The opposition to R. K. Colcord for Governor on the grounds that he is "Yerington's candidate" seems to us far fetched. Candidates for Governor were not plentiful, for nearly every one approached relative to the position declined, including Evan Williams of Ormsby, W. O. H. Martin and Francis G. Newlands of Washoe, and other gentlemen from different parts of the State, and necessarily the fight dwindled down between Powning, Colcord and Woodburn. But Woodburn quit before it came to a contest and left the convention to make a choice between Powning and Colcord, and Colcord was thought to be the most available man for the position. He had a business record above reproach, and in no sense was he ever a political boss. He had no friends to reward nor enemies to punish, and has been a resident of the State for nearly a quarter of a century. While Powning went into the contest handicapped with his record of four years ago and with not the elements of a strong candidate. He has been defeated several times, when we had a greater margin to work on than we will have this fall. In the first instance he was given the nomination for State Printer, and was defeated, then he asked for the nomination for Congress and it was given him, and he was badly beaten for that place. In 1886 he went into the fight for U. S. Senator, and showed no strength whatever, unless Senator Fish's vote can be construed into an element of strength. The course that he pursued after his defeat at the primaries in 1886 was not such as to inspire confidence in a party leader, and it was not deemed wise to place him at the head of the ticket to be again knocked down by the people. If Washoe had gone to the State Convention and demanded the nomination of Mr. Martin or Mr. Newlands for Governor, she would have made a winning fight. But between Powning and Colcord the honors fell upon Esmeralda's candidate and Washoe got left, and why leading Republicans of this county should sneeringly allude to him as "Yerington candidate" in order to vent their personal spite against Colcord is not clear, unless they intend to pursue the rule or ruin policy. There are Republicans holding office to-day, and men who participated in the deliberation of the last State convention who are casting out insinuations that are calculated to do Mr. Colcord harm, but we think they will miss the mark.

Now that the Journal has told us that Foley is the "business men's" candidate, perhaps it will be good enough to tell us what particular measures the "business men" are interested in that makes them so anxious for Foley. It certainly can be nothing legitimate, or Foley's "experience" would not be made such a handle of. He has had lot of legislative "experience" the GAZETTE will admit, and some of it he would be better off without.

The Effects of Mental Exhaustion. Many diseases, especially those of the nervous system, are the product of daily mental and moral exhaustion. Business avocations often involve an amount of moral wear and tare very prejudicial to physical health, and the professional, if ardently pursued, are no less destructive to the brain and nerve tissue. It is one of the most important attributes of "certain" Stomach Bitters, that it compensates for this undue loss of tissue, and that it imparts new energy to the brain and nerves. The rapidity with which it renews weakened mental energy and physical vitality is remarkable, and shows that its invigorating properties are of the highest order. Besides increasing vital standing, and counteracting the effects of mental exhaustion, this potent medicine cures and prevents fever and ague, rheumatism, chronic dyspepsia and constipation, kidney and urinary weakness and other complaints. Physicians also commend it as a medicated stimulant and remedy.

A Sure Cure for Itches. Itching Piles are known by molasses, like perspiration causing intense itching when warm. This form, as well as blood, bleeding and protracted itching, is cured by Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly on the parts affected, absorbs the mucus, allays itching and effects a permanent cure. Druggists or mail; treatise free. Dr. Bosanko, Piquette, O. Sold by S. J. Hodge, Klamath.

The Place to Buy. A. Nelson, of the Free Intelligence Office, Virginia street, carries a fine stock of the best tobacco, Havana and Key West cigars, notions, cutlery, gent's underwear, gloves, buck-knives, cut-throats and Dr. "Willie's" Discovery.

NAMES OF DOCTORS

What an Editor Discovered in a New Directory of Physicians. Something might be said in favor of the primitive practice of naming men after they were grown up, instead of while they were babies. Under the present system it often happens that a man's name is curiously out of keeping with his character or pursuits. The literary editor of the Doctor has lately been examining a new directory of physicians, and seems to have been greatly impressed by the singularity and inappropriateness of some of the names contained in it.

He thinks, for example, that Doctor Coffin might sound unpleasantly suggestive to a nervous patient, though less so, perhaps, than another name which follows it—Doctor Death. A timid person might object to Doctor Sexton also, and if one were very sick, indeed, it would certainly seem ominous if Doctor Death, Doctor Coffin and Doctor Sexton were to hold a consultation at his bedside.

Other names almost as bad as the foregoing are Doctor Butcher and Doctor Slaughter, though they occur several times each in the directory. There are two Doctor Cranks—fewer than might have been expected—and one Doctor Craze, who is perhaps in charge of an insane asylum.

Some of the names may be called inappropriately appropriate, such as Allen, Carver, Cutter, Hush, Diet, Hurt, Mangle, Pellet, Pillsbury, Tomb and Toothaker. Doctor Argus and Dr. Shivers might very well be partners, and if a third man were wanted they could hardly do better than to call in Doctor Sweat.

Other names are anatomical or physiological: Doctor Bones, Doctor Nuckles, Doctor Shinn and Doctor Bowell, for example, not to mention Lungs, Livers and Lights.

Doctor Salts is not a name to quarrel with, and the same may be said of Doctor Seltzer and Doctor Seidlitz. Doctor Tarwater, Doctor Rootes and Doctor Bitters have an innocent sound, but what shall be said of Doctor Booser, Doctor Dullard, Doctor Kilpatrick, Doctor Duffer, Doctor Hornblower, Doctor Lepper and Doctor Swindell?

The list contains one Doctor Honesty, but it is doubtful whether he deserves that honorable title better than do several of his professional brethren, who frankly call themselves Doctor Nosttrum, Doctor Able, Doctor Good and Doctor Noble are perhaps not Pharisees, and Doctor Newbill, Doctor McAfee and Doctor Diller may not be more mercenary than Doctor Smith nor Doctor Brown.

MASCULINE WOMEN.

They are Strong Only with Other Women and with Young Men. To every distinct quality belongs its own kingdom. The woman who can stride round her farm and keep her workmen in proper subjection, who can drive her yoke of oxen afield, red and blowed and muscular, has her own rule and empire; but it is not of the sort of which we are speaking. There was not, perhaps, much womanliness about such individuals as Elizabeth of England, or Catherine of Russia, or Christina of Sweden; all their lovers put together could not give them a charm they did not possess—the charm of Mary Stuart, of Josephine, for the possession of lovers by no means proves the possession of this charm. Yet where one accomplished her ends by mastery of purpose and manner, many women accomplish theirs by using the iron hand, it may be, but always in the velvet glove; their will is no less strong because it is not made evident in season and out of season, although, in fact, the graceful yielding of that will now and then is a strengthening of all the bonds by which empire is held.

The masculine woman is strong only with other women and with womanish men. The womanly woman conquers every one. With men her power is in the inverse ratio of her approach to anything resembling herself; the woman, not the man in her, attracts; and, singularly enough, her power is greater with most women also from this heightening of her feminine side. This, however, is a very insignificant matter beside the circumstance that a woman is fulfilling her destiny, and living the life appointed her, and developing herself on the lines of nature, by keeping in view the greater use she can be, and the greater joy and comfort she can give, through the exercise of those traits which seem to have been set apart for her characterization. And if it is the intention of nature that the qualities of the sexes shall so differentiate, it is not the part of wisdom for her to contravene such intention and make of herself that conglomerate and hybrid thing, a masculine woman. The old story of the vine and the oak does not come into this question. In the womanly woman the growth is as strong and integral and self-supporting as it is in the manly man. She is as distinct an entity, and she is more in unison with eternal purposes and the creative power, the more utterly and thoroughly she is womanly.—Harper's Bazar.

Consideration for Children.

People appear to think that, while good manners should be strenuously exacted from children, precept in this connection may stand instead of example, and that orders may be given them and remarks made upon them as if they were devoid of natural feelings and perceptions. As a matter of fact, if, when people want children to do something for them, they would ask it in the same way in which they would address an equal, if they would thank them for little services rendered, speak to them gently, answer their reasonable questions civilly, and avoid unnecessary comments upon their appearance, they would have far less trouble in teaching them to behave with like consideration for others.—Once a Week.

Stopping an Engine with a Cent.

The common copper cent, the insignificant tenth-part of a dime, can render useless the vast propelling force of steam. Place a cent before one of the front wheels of an engine in such a manner that it rests firmly on the track and against the wheel. Then, though the engineer put on the greatest possible head of steam, his engine will not move. That little copper must be first taken away. This bit of knowledge will be of value to him who wishes to delay a train several minutes for a procrastinating companion.

Pure Blood

It is absolutely necessary in order to have perfect health. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the great blood purifier, quickly conquering scrofula, salt rheum, and all other insidious enemies which attack the blood and undermine the health. It also builds up the whole system, cures dyspepsia and sick headache, and overcomes that tired feeling.

Scrofula, Sores. "My adopted boy, aged 14 years, suffered terribly from scrofula sores on his leg, which spread till they at one time formed one great sore from the calf of his leg up to his thigh, partially covered with scab, and discharging matter continually. The muscles became contracted so that his leg was drawn up and he could hardly walk. We tried everything we could think of, without success, until we began giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla. In just a month, after he had taken two-thirds of a bottle, the sores entirely healed, his leg is perfectly straight, and he

Can Walk as Well as Ever. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine I ever saw for scrofulous humor. It has done its work more than satisfactorily." WILLIAM SANDERS, Rockdale, Millam County, TEXAS.
